

STARTRADER PRIME GLOBAL PTY LTD'S

PUBLIC COMPLAINTS POLICY

Overview

This policy explains how you can make a complaint, our measures for handling your complaint, and the steps you can take if you are not satisfied with our response to your complaint or the time that it takes for us to respond.

When we use the term “IDR”, we mean “internal dispute resolution”.

We acknowledge the importance of having an effective and efficient complaints handling and IDR framework, and we adopt a customer-focused approach. While we acknowledge your right to make a complaint, we expect that you will treat our staff with respect when they are dealing with your complaint.

The purpose of this Complaints Policy is to set out the information required to be in a Complaints policy by ASIC Corporations, Credit and Superannuation (Internal Dispute Resolution) Instrument 2020/98 (“the Instrument”). The Instrument is a legislative instrument made by the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (“ASIC”).

We adopted the current version of this Complaints Policy on 4 January 2024.

What is a complaint?

A complaint is:

“An expression of dissatisfaction made to or about us; related to our products, services, staff or our handling of a complaint, where a response or resolution is explicitly or implicitly expected or legally required”.

A complaint is not:

- One that is raised by STARTRADER staff is employment related
- Comments made about STARTRADER where no response is expected, such as giving feedback in a survey
- Hardship notices or requests to postpone enforcement proceedings

How we will deal with your complaint

Acknowledgement

We will acknowledge receipt of your complaint and try to resolve it as quickly as possible.

Generally, where your complaint is made:

- verbally – we will acknowledge your complaint in the same manner and, in writing, within one business day, or as soon as practicable;
- in writing – by email or via social media, we will acknowledge your complaint, in writing, within one business day or as soon as practicable thereafter.

When acknowledging your complaint, we will also have regard to any preferences you have communicated to us in relation to the way in which you wish for us to communicate with you.

Investigation of your complaint

If we cannot resolve your complaint immediately, we will need some time to investigate your concerns.

We may also request that you provide us with further information to assist with our investigation.

IDR Response

We will provide you with our written reasons for the outcome of your complaint (“IDR Response”) within 30 calendar days after receiving your complaint where:

- your complaint is not resolved within 5 business days of us receiving your complaint;
- if you request a written response;

Our IDR Response will also inform you of your right to escalate your complaint to the Australian Financial Complaints Authority (AFCA). AFCA offers a free and independent dispute resolution for financial complaints to individuals and small businesses.

If we reject your complaint (whether in full or in part), our IDR Response will:

- identify and address the issues you raised in your complaint;

- set out our findings on the material questions of fact raised in your complaint, making reference to the relevant supporting information; and
- provide a sufficient level of detail in order for you to understand the reasons for our decision so that you can decide whether to escalate the complaint to AFCA or another forum.

We are not required to provide you with an IDR Response if:

- your complaint is resolved to your complete satisfaction within 5 business days and you have not requested an IDR Response; or
- within 5 business days of receiving your complaint, we have given you an explanation and/or apology in circumstances where we cannot take any further action to reasonably address your complaint.

Delay in providing an IDR Response

If we are not able to provide our IDR Response to you on time because your complaint is complex or because of circumstances beyond our control, we will write to you to explain the reasons for the delay and inform you of your right to complain to AFCA and provide you with AFCA's contact details.

Examples of what may be circumstances that beyond our control include:

- if the complainant is waiting on a medical appointment that requires their attendance
- the complainant is unable to respond due to illness or absence
- information must be obtained from third parties, and that information is required to substantiate a given complaint or claim.

Where an IDR Response is not required

An IDR Response is not required where the complaint has been resolved within 5 business days of receipt. The claim will be resolved because:

- the complaint has been resolved to your satisfaction; or
- you have been given an explanation and/or apology as to why we can take no further steps to reasonably address the complaint.

Unless:

- the claim is about hardship; or
- you specifically request a written IDR Responses; or
- if it is a complaint related for any decision of a trustee of a regulated superannuation fund

Escalating your complaint

If you are not satisfied with our response to your complaint, you can escalate your complaint to AFCA.

An example of what will be considered "complex" is when the complaint is about a transaction or event that occurred more than 6 years ago and would require reconstruction of account information.

We are required to be a member of an external dispute resolution scheme. Accordingly, we are a member of AFCA and our membership number is 30251.
